

Amaterasu

In a shrine, a round mirror is an object of worship regarded as the sun. The sacred mirror is a ritual article to worship deities existing beyond it, and for us to face ourselves and settle our minds. A round mirror is something sacred for Japanese people. To express a pure and clean presence, we used uncoated, solid brass parts with a plain wooden frame, leaving clean texture of material itself. This is a mirror which can exist as a modest object in a space.
