

in the forest

We use trees of 50 to 100 years old to produce furniture. Japanese had eaten nuts that were gifts from mountains, cut only necessary amounts of trees to make long-lasting tools, and made a fire to manage their lives.

We created a bed using such precious trees of this earth. While keeping in mind the theme of sleeping in the forest, we created a bed using the texture of solid wood to provide a soft appearance you may feel from the texture of wood. It is our desire to carefully use wood to help people having pleasant sleep while appreciating the gifts we receive from trees.
