

Aquarius sofa

By connecting the organic front and back side with a single stitch line makes a sharp edge, and it creates modern, neat impression, free of excess, while maintaining a voluminous feel. To obtain an extremely thin and light design in the cushioning while maintaining the seat's comfort and ensure strength, we use a metal frame, webbing tape, and resilient urethane. The legs, composed of flat bars, lend a floating feeling by creating space where the legs connect to the main body.
