

bollard

The bollard stool, inspired by the bollards used to secure ships to quays and piers, may appear whimsical at first glance, but it harbors an incredibly robust structure within the ground to securely anchor large ships. This stool draws inspiration from the bollard's functionality and features playful elements along with sculptural qualities, offering a new perspective in interior settings.

Crafted from bronze casting, the stool comes in two types: a satin-polished finish and a black stain finish. The weighty material, combined with gentle lines, brings a simple yet distinctive essence to the space, enriching it with a touch of individuality.
