

Philip half arm chair

The characteristic shell, with its soft curve from back to side, provides even more firm support for your entire body than the impression of its appearance. The legs and seat frame made in a single piece together gives a sense of security when using the chair. The underside of the seat frame has a curved shape, creating a subtle, soft connection from the seat surface to the reverse side. The unification of the half armrest shell and seat frame creates a sense of quality dignity. This chair, with its gentle and cute character, as well as a modern, yet classic expression, leads to a change in atmosphere wherever it is used.
